Dear Parents,

Hopefully tomorrow we will be able to get into school and carry on with our current focus on traditional tales. Last week we had fun reading the story of Hansel and Gretel, acting out the story and making our own gingerbread houses. This week we will be reading "Puss in Boots" and thinking about castles. The class and I will decide between "Rumpelstiltskin" or "The Elves and the Shoemaker" for next week! (I quite like the idea of having a shoe shop in the role play area!)

The first week in February is the Primary Literacy Week and we will be discussing our favourite stories. Thank you to those parents who have already sent in their child's favourite book to share. It would be lovely if everyone could do the same so that we can have a class display explaining why this book is loved, with a photo of each child holding his/her book. No need to wait until the Literacy week itself - you can send the book in any day from tomorrow!

After the half-term break we will be moving on to the topic of Transport which will last until the Spring break.

I hope you are all enjoying the snow, and look forward to seeing everyone tomorrow

Kind regards,

Theresa
